Introduction  Where Opportunity Meets Talent®

Research has proven that job-related talents are directly related to job satisfaction and personal performance. People are well positioned to achieve success when they are engaged in work suited to their inherent skills, behavioral style and unique values. Your TTI Talent Insights Talent Report can be compared with specific job requirements outlined in TTI Talent Insights Job Reports. When the talent required by the job is clearly defined and in turn matched to the individual, everyone wins!

The following is a highly-personalized portrait of your talent in two main sections:

Motivators Hierarchy (6 Areas)

This section identifies what motivates you. In order to be successful and energized on the job, it is important that your underlying values are satisfied through the nature of your work. When they are, you feel personally rewarded by your work.

Behavioral Hierarchy (12 Areas)

This section ranks the traits that most closely describe your natural behavior. When your job requires the use of your top behavioral traits, your potential for success increases, as do your levels of personal and professional satisfaction.

Motivators Feedback

This section expands on three areas that you value most. When your job emphasizes what you value, you will feel personally rewarded.

Behavioral Feedback

This section gives you insight into your top three behavioral traits to further identify your unique strengths.

Motivators Feedback

Your motivation to succeed in anything you do is determined by your underlying values. You will feel energized and successful at work when your job supports your personal values. The following are your 3 highest ranked personal values:

1. Theoretical
   - You value knowledge, continuing education and intellectual growth.
   - The primary drive with this motivator is the discovery of TRUTH. In pursuit of this drive, an individual takes a "cognitive" attitude. Such an individual is nonjudgmental regarding the beauty or utility of objects and seeks only to observe and to reason. Since the interests of the theoretical person are empirical, critical and rational, the person appears to be an intellectual. The chief aim in life is to order and systematize knowledge: knowledge for the sake of knowledge.

2. Social
   - You value opportunities to be of service to others and contribute to the progress and well being of society.
   - Those who score very high for this motivator have an inherent love of people. The social person prizes other people and is, therefore, kind, sympathetic and unselfish. They are likely to find the Theoretical, Utilitarian and Aesthetic attitudes cold and inhuman. Compared to the Individualistic motivator, the Social person regards helping others as the only suitable form for human relationships. Research indicates that in its purest form, the Social interest is selfless.

3. Traditional/Regulatory
   - You value traditions inherent in social structure, rules, regulations and principles.
   - The highest interest for this motivator may be called "unity," "order," or "tradition." Individuals with high scores for this motivator seek a system for living. This system can be found in such things as conservatism or any authority that has defined rules, regulations and principles for living.
Behavioral Feedback

Your observable behavior and related emotions contribute to your success on the job. When matched to the job, they play a large role in enhancing your performance. The following are your 3 highest ranked behavioral traits:

1. Frequent Interaction with Others
   - You prefer to interact with others rather than deal with tasks. You are able to maintain a friendly interface with others when faced with multiple interruptions on a continual basis.

2. People Oriented
   - You have a positive and constructive view of working with others. You prefer to spend a high percentage of your time listening and understanding others and are able to successfully work with a wide range of people from diverse backgrounds to achieve "win-win" outcomes.

3. Versatility
   - You are multi-talented and easily adapt to changes with a high level of optimism and a "can do" orientation.
